Description

The heating body warmer can be heated at a temperature higher than 40°C for more than 12 hours. The heating temperature was kept constant at 52°C for 10 hours. The temperature is very comfortable, not hot or cold. Put a piece on the body part that needs warmth or cold protection, it will keep you hot all day long! In addition, all packaging materials are imported from Japan and are produced on a fully automatic production line to ensure that there are absolutely no problems such as weak adhesion, powder leakage and material clamping caused by the production of body warmer on semi-automatic machines.

Maxwarm is a professional custom heat patch manufacturer. We specialize in hand warmers, body warmers and foot warmers for small and big brands.
